Verhalen's Vision

As we wrap up the end of the year at Lincoln there were a few bumps that allowed us to try something new. Due to unforeseen issues we failed to lock down lifeguards for our end of the year swim at Kastner. Due to the quick thinking of Ms. Willis and Mrs. Castro and the implementation by Mr. V we put together a water games relays. This involved each class dividing into teams and then competing against their classmates. In these events we attempted to get student wet but not soaked in a way that was fun. Leakey cups on their heads, wet sponge on their head, and slamming a ball into a bucket of water that splashed water all over. The new water day seemed like a huge success to those that earned the reward. If we had go-pros on our heads we would have had some amazing videos for AFV.

Have a great summer and please make sure your child is reading books. The county library is not far away, and I am challenging each parent to help your child get books and 5-6 days a week, for 20-40 minutes depending on age, read to your children. My children have great memories of me reading "The Trumpet of the Swan" to them on vacation one summer. Enjoy.

Always do what's right,
Matt Verhalen
